13th International Conference on Telecommunications

The 13th International Conference on Telecommunications - ConTEL will be held in Graz, Austria, from July 13th –15th, 2015. The theme of the conference for the 2015 is “ICT Infrastructure for the Networked Society,” aiming to reflect on current and emerging information and communication technologies as key drivers of the information society and economy. With new services and increasing demand, there is a growing need for improvement in networking infrastructure – not just in terms of quality and performance, but also in scalability, mobility, energy efficiency, and multiple technologies integration. Through its technical program, the conference will provide an opportunity for the academic and industrial communities to address new research challenges, share solutions and discuss issues in information and communication technology (ICT) referring to modern telecommunications.

For this IEEE and IEEE ComSoc technically-cosponsored conference up to 200 attendees are expected. The conference will take place at the Graz University of Technology (TU Graz) and there will be enough space to provide exhibition areas for your company if required.

As the main social events a guided city tour and an invitation of the lord mayor of Graz will be sponsored by the city of Graz on Monday, July 13th and a gala dinner will be hosted and partially funded by the governor of Styria on Tuesday, July 14th. There are other social events planned like an excursion to different locations. For further information visit our homepage <http://www.contel.hr>.

We composed sponsoring packages which offer you the possibility to represent your company as desired. It is also possible to reserve exhibit spaces (Diamond Patronage) to present your brand and products at the conference. Please check out our detailed sponsorship options on the next page.

We hope our sponsorship offers are interesting and we would be delighted to cooperate with you.
